

BEVERLY CLAIBORNE'S BIO

Beverly Claiborne, founder of ABIDE FAMILY BLESSINGS, is a woman whose personal experience with God is authentic and the driving force behind everything she teaches her audience. She is a Christian author and speaker who woke up one day saying, “Absolutely, I want to know God more intimately, and I want to achieve the unlimited possibilities He has for me in life!” This happens when a believer chooses to stretch out of complacency, and relies on, and draws direction and power from Jesus Christ. Simultaneously, there is personal change and new choices, and an exciting path of blessing and discovery that begins.

She is the first to say, “I face the same challenges every other woman faces. Life can be hard—it takes much more than the world can give to lead a purpose-filled and joyful life. There is chaos among families. Women need encouragement to be strong. Children need to be taught how to become leaders, by men who are learning how to be leaders themselves. Life is a process, and our American culture, in many ways is the direct opposite of the value system Jesus lived on earth. We need to wake up and pay attention to God!”

Beverly is excited about the clear-cut message God gives, and feels she is being obedient to Him in sharing the compelling words from the Holy Bible with other women (and men). She knows if she can do it with God’s help, others can do the same. She encourages all her audiences to abide in God, minute-by-minute and day-by-day, to achieve a greater sense of contentment.

Author of Abiding in God’s Word, she offers readers a candid look at her awakened walk with God. She offers specific steps of action, and her ABIDE company product line of gifts glorify God. Every product launched by Abide Family Blessings shows her passion for sharing God in a way that will positively encourage women and men to embrace God’s virtues in their own lives.

Beverly is a speaker with Christian Women in Media Association, but you can contact her directly with your speaking requests.
